Irresistible Sep 23 2019 “Irresistible is a fascinating and much needed exploration of one of the most troubling phenomena of modern times.” —Malcolm Gladwell, author of New York Times bestsellers David and Goliath and Outliers “One of the most mesmerizing and important books I’ve read in quite some time. Alter brilliantly illuminates the new obsessions that are controlling our lives and offers the tools we need to rescue our businesses, our families, and our sanity.” —Adam Grant, New York Times bestselling author of Originals and Give and Take Welcome to the age of behavioral addiction—an age in which half of the American population is addicted to at least one behavior. We obsess over our emails, Instagram likes, and Facebook feeds; we binge on TV episodes and YouTube videos; we work longer hours each year; and we spend an average of three hours each day using our smartphones. Half of us would rather suffer a broken bone than a broken phone, and Millennial kids spend so much time in front of screens that they struggle to interact with real, live humans. In this revolutionary book, Adam Alter, a professor of psychology and marketing at NYU, tracks the rise of behavioral addiction, and explains why so many of today's products are irresistible. Though these miraculous products melt the miles that separate people across the globe, their extraordinary and sometimes damaging magnetism is no accident. The companies that design these products tweak them over time until they become almost impossible to resist. By reverse engineering behavioral addiction, Alter explains how we can harness addictive products for the good—to improve how we communicate with each other, spend and save our money, and set boundaries between work and play—and how we can mitigate their most damaging effects on our well-being, and the health and happiness of our children. Adam Alter's previous book, Drunk Tank Pink: And Other Unexpected Forces that Shape How We Think, Feel, and Behave is available in paperback from Penguin.

Counseling 21st Century Students for Optimal College and Career Readiness Nov 25 2019 This second edition presents an updated action-based curriculum for high school counselors that will meet the needs of 21st century students, helping to foster their growth and engage them in learning what they need to succeed beyond high school. This book takes a comprehensive, developmental approach, focusing on 9th-12th grade students rather than solely on those in 11th and 12th grade. It provides a model for developing and enhancing a successful college advising office as well as essential advice on methods of working with parents. Specific topics discussed include successful transition to 9th grade, using technology in the college and career advising process, assisting and advising students in college research and application, and helping seniors make successful transitions to college. There is also a special focus on students in urban and rural schools to enable them to have the same enriched experiences in their college and career advising program as those students in private and suburban schools. The curriculum is geared for use by school counselors, college advisors, and readers in graduate counseling student courses.

Argumentation across Communities of Practice Dec 07 2020 Featuring multidisciplinary and transcultural investigations, this volume showcases state-of-the-art scholarship about the impact of argumentation-based discourses and field-specific argumentation practices in a wide range of communities of practice belonging to the media, social, legal and political spheres. The investigations make use of integrative, wide-ranging theoretical perspectives and empirical research methodologies with a focus on argumentation strategies in real-life environments, both private and public, and in constantly growing virtual environments. This book brings together linguists, argumentation scholars, philosophers and communication specialists who convincingly show how interpersonal and/or intergroup interactions shape, challenge or change the argumentative practices of users, what argumentation skills and strategies become critical and consequential, how argumentative discourse contexts may stimulate or prevent critical reflection and debate, and what are the wider implications at personal, institutional and societal levels. Reaching beyond the boundaries of linguistics and argumentation sciences, this book should be a valuable resource for researchers as well as practitioners in the fields of pragmatic linguistics, argumentation studies, rhetoric, discourse analysis, political sciences and media studies.

Transforming Institutions Mar 22 2022 Higher education is coming under increasing scrutiny, both publically and within academia, with respect to its ability to appropriately prepare students for the careers that will make them competitive in the 21st-century workplace. At the same time, there is a growing awareness that many global issues will require creative and critical thinking deeply rooted in the technical STEM (science, technology, engineering, and mathematics) disciplines. However, the existing and ingrained structures of higher education, particularly in the STEM fields, are not set up to provide students with extensive skill development in communication, teamwork, and divergent thinking, which is needed for success in the knowledge economy. In 2011 and again in 2014, an international conference was convened to bring together university leaders, educational policymakers and researchers, and funding agency representatives to discuss the issue of institutional transformation in higher education, particularly in the STEM disciplines. Central to the issue of institutional transformation is the ability to provide new forms of instruction so that students can gain the variety of skills and depth of knowledge they will need. However, radically altering approaches to instruction sets in motion a domino effect that touches on learning space design, instructional technology, faculty training and reward structures, course scheduling, and funding models. In order for one piece to move, there must be coordinated movement in the others, all of which are part of an entrenched and interconnected system. Transforming Institutions brings together chapters from the scholars and leaders who were part of the 2011 and 2014 conferences. It provides an overview of the context and challenges in STEM higher education, contributed chapters describing programs and research in this area, and a reflection and summary of the lessons from the many authors' viewpoints, leading to suggested next steps in the path toward transformation.

Gefunden Apr 23 2022 "Gefunden" von Johann Wolfgang Goethe: 1813 schrieb Johann Wolfgang Goethe das berühmte "Gefunden", dessen Kerngedanke, die Achtung vor der Natur, von zeitloser Aktualität ist. In fünf Versen ist darin von einer kleinen Blume die Rede, welche sich gegen das rohe Abbrechen wehrt und das mit Erfolg, denn stattdessen wird sie sachte ausgegraben und in einen Garten eingepflanzt: "Nun zweigt es immer und blüht so fort". Verena Ballhaus hat zu diesem Gedicht eigenwillige Illustrationen geschaffen, die nicht Jedermanns oder -fraus Sache sind. Gilt es doch eine Brücke zu schlagen von dem lieblichen deutschen Meistergedicht zu den abstrakten modernen, etwas hart und kalt wirkenden, jedoch unzweifelhaft originell und künstlerisch hochstehenden Illustrationen, und da scheint eine gewisse Kluft zu sein, die Kinder vielleicht eher überspringen als Erwachsene. Ab 7 Jahren, möglich, Beatrice Balint.

Courage Rises From The Ashes Oct 25 2019 America is a land that drew families away from their native countries, many seeking to escape the turmoil of war and strife, others from overcrowding, poverty, famine, or pestilence. Follow the lives of three families living in a small town in rural Minnesota, where second and third generations plus new arrivals are paving a new way of life but still holding tight to the traditions and history of their ancestors. They share friendship and faith during the 1930s, when prohibition followed with the depression are woven into their life experiences. They led rich, full lives filled with laughter and sharing in spite of these adversities. Parents and grandparents were thankful that the children could grow up free from the fear and turmoil of war. They were grateful that they had found peace and the space for their families to not only grow but to excel in the peace and beauty of the Minnesota landscape. They were thankful that they had found the strength, courage, and fortitude to leave their ancestral homes to forge new lives, and that they had found . . . the courage to rise from the ashes.

Still Learning: Lessons of the past, present, and future Feb 21 2022 Norm Smith is a master of the straight, clear, declarative narrative, a skill that is all too rare in literature today. It is also the perfect vehicle for this highly entertaining, focused, and unusual introspective look at life itself. Norm carefully mixes deceptively simple stories of childhood and youth with enlightening experiences of substantial time spent in three separate occupations. To this concoction he adds colorful insights gained from decades of careful observation of our foibles and ourselves. The result is often amusing, invariably insightful, and at times profound, and before we know it we have been led, subtly though logically, to face up to the serious questions we all too often tend to avoid. Still Learning is a personal trek that somehow manages to uncover for all of us truly unexpected and probable lessons from the past, present, and the future. At times a walk in the park, at times a bit of a steep climb, the whole journey, twists and turns included, is more than worth the trip. —John Christgau, Author Still Learning is a delightful, engaging, and compelling collection of vignettes, anecdotes, remembrances, wisdom, and rules for living that is both an intellectual and spiritual travelogue of the author's eight decade journey fighting the good fight. This book is a real page-turner, and an insightful road map for any reader seeking the life in abundance promised by the Lord. —Fr. Aris Metrakos Norm Smith is a wonderful story-teller. With his keen sense of humor, rich life experiences, knowledge of scripture and human nature, he plucks fruitful lessons from life's varied orchards and presents them skillfully wrapped and polished as teaching anecdotes to be long remembered. Norm shares with us his own journey from the Oklahoma Dust Bowl to California migrant camp life to carpenter to Bible College and University graduate to high school English teacher and administrator, and Finally to church Pastor and author. From each stop along the way he gleaned valuable lifelessons. His purpose is to encourage and challenge his readers to look beyond the transitory wisdom of this age and to firmly grasp the intent of life's Creator/Designer and develop an authentic worldview to serve as a personal life template. Next June when the graduation announcements arrive, I hope to give a copy of this book to every graduate, encouraging him or her to develop a personal, studied concept of God and His ways—thereby perhaps shielding them from having to learn some of life's key lessons and truths the hard way. —Rev. Dennis Sawyer
